CapitaLand's commitment to CSR

Headquartered and listed in Singapore, CapitaLand's core business is in real estate, hospitality and real estate financial services in growth cities in Asia Pacific and Europe. As part of CapitaLand's sustainability drive, the Group's CSR focus is in the areas of corporate philanthropy, volunteerism and community development, which are in line with the company's credo of 'Building people'.

In 2005, CapitaLand set up a corporate foundation, CapitaLand Hope Foundation (CHF), to further the company's commitment to support underprivileged children in their shelter, education and healthcare needs. CHF is one of the first foundations established by a Singapore real estate company. It identifies and supports programmes in countries where we operate by leveraging CapitaLand's extensive geographical footprint.

Every year, CapitaLand allocates up to 0.5% of its net profit to CHF to build a better future for underprivileged children. Since inception, CHF has donated more than S$17 million to support underprivileged children across Asia. CapitaLand believes that helping underprivileged children at an earlier stage of development will have a multiplier effect on the beneficiaries' families and the community, enabling social mobility in the future.

Building for Tomorrow

CapitaLand started a community development project CapitaKids Programme to support the education of 10 primary level schoolchildren for 10 years. The growth and development of the beneficiaries is tracked to ensure that their access to education will not be compromised by their disadvantaged single-parent family background.

CapitaLand Hope Foundation has been supporting CapitaMalls Asia's signature annual CSR programme, 'My Schoolbag', where schoolbags containing school and daily necessities are given to underprivileged children in hope of easing the financial burden of lower-income families. The programme has benefitted over 50,000 needy children across Asia.

With the objective of improving food security and nutrition of needy children, CapitaLand implemented Kids' Food Fund. More than 33,000 young beneficiaries across Asia have benefitted from efforts to improve their nutritional intake.

CapitaLand constantly engages the beneficiaries through volunteer activities with educational value. There were over 200 staff volunteering activities in 2011, including P.E.E.K (Providing Educational Exposure for Kids) volunteer property tours, organised by CapitaLand. In 2011, 1,144 CapitaLand staff volunteered 9,848 hours during work days to participate in various corporate and external volunteering activities across Asia.

CapitaLand Hope Schools

CapitaLand is committed to building a better future for underprivileged children by focusing on their education and shelter needs through CapitaLand Hope Schools. Many of the primary schools in rural areas of developing countries are poorly built and lack proper facilities. Some of the schoolchildren live in mountainous regions, far away from school, and need to travel up to two hours on foot to go to school every day.

In collaboration with the Chinese government, CHF has supported the building and enhancement of schools and dormitories in China. These CapitaLand Hope Schools are located in Inner Mongolia, Guangdong, Sichuan, Yunnan and Zhejiang provinces. Beyond China, CHF has also built the first CapitaLand Hope School in Vietnam and CapitaLand Hope Dormitory for Children in Thailand. In India, CHF is setting up the first Mission Education Centre in Udaipur. New school facilities funded by CHF in these countries create a more conducive learning environment, while staying in dormitories allow the children to focus on their studies and foster character development.

To date, CHF has a total of 24 CapitaLand Hope Schools in operation or under development in China and Vietnam to provide a conducive learning environment for underprivileged children in rural communities, enabling social mobility and building a better future for the children and their families.

CapitaLand also aims to be an environmentally-sustainable real estate developer and aims to be at the forefront of the industry in terms of green buildings and environmental awareness. Through its Building a Greener Future programme, CapitaLand encourages staff, tenants and the community to play their role in protecting the environment.
